Will Tony Smith be Belle Glade's new city manager?

By Brenda Bunting Editor

Those attending last Thursday morning's meeting between Belle Glade City Commissioners and Tony Smith, top candidate for city manager, may have left wondering, "Is he going to start November 1, or not?"

That question wasn't answered, although commissioners agreed to let city staff work through negotiations with Mr. Smith and bring them back before the commission as soon as possible.

Finance Director Dave Wood has been acting city manager since Shelton Smith resigned in July to take the city manager position in Dothan, Ala. The city advertised for the position and interviewed six potentials in late August. Tony Smith was chosen as the commission's top choice. Then-mayor Hanna Miller, City Attorney Charles Schoech, Mr. Wood and Mr. Smith's attorney, Glen Torcivia, met on Sept. 15 to negotiate a contract. Mr. Smith signed the contract that day.

Attorney Torcivia says his client has a valid contract, signed by Mrs. Miller. Mr. Smith and attested to by City Clerk Debra Buff. "There is a contract and it's signed. There is a legal document. I think the severance package is the only thing that's giving some of you heartburn," said Mr. Torcivia at Thursday's meeting.

Three Belle Glade officers injured while breaking up party

Party's host charged with inciting riot

By Tracy Whirlis

Three police officers trying to shut down a noisy outdoor party at 1117 S.W. Avenue E Place in Belle Glade Sunday were pelted by rocks, bottles and 2-by-4s, sending one of them to the hospital with a head injury and leading to two arrests, police said.

Clarence Young, 31, of Belle Glade was charged with corruption by threat against a police officer, inciting a riot and unlawful assembly. A second man, Antonio Singletary, 38, of South Bay, was charged with obstructing police, resisting arrest and battery on a law enforcement officer.

According to a probable cause affidavit prepared by Belle Glade Detective Shatara Shatara, Officers Carl Graves, Sgt. Ed Britt and Officer Timothy Horton responded to the scene at 7:01 p.m. Sunday in reference to a loud disturbance complaint. Upon arrival, officers observed several hundred people and vehicles in the roadway and surrounding areas. In some instances blocking the roadway. When Officers Graves and Horton approached the front of the home and asked who was in charge of the party, a subject later identified as Singletary, stepped out of the crowd and wanted to know why the officers were asking Officer Graves answered that they needed to speak to the person in charge because the wall of speakers were going to have to come down and the loud music stopped because there was no loud speaker permit at the residence. In violation of city ordinances. According to the officers, when asked to identify himself, the subject became argumentative, refused to identify himself and fled into the house. When Officer Graves approached the front porch of the house, a female exited the house. While officers were questioning the unidentified woman, the suspect reportedly came back out of the residence and told the woman she did not have to identify herself and again refused to give officers his own name.

"At this time, the crowd which had been standing in the road began to move into the yard, encircling the front of the residence," Detective Shatara said.

When Officer Graves informed the suspect he was being arrested for opposing and obstructing a law enforcement officer by refusing to identify himself, the suspect allegedly pushed and struck Officer Graves, and continued to struggle as Officer Horton and Sgt. Britt attempted to assist Officer Graves in subduing him. When Officer Graves told the suspect continued resistance would result in his being pepper-

City to receive 13 properties from the county

By Tracy Whirlis

The city of Pahokee will soon receive title to 13 properties seized by Palm Beach County for unpaid taxes and will hold-conduct a workshop to determine how best to dispose of them.

Pahokee City Manager Ken Schenck told commissioners at their regular meeting Oct. 10 that the properties on three streets in East Lake Village are the first of several derelict buildings which the county has agreed to turn over to the city in lieu of back taxes or code enforcement liens. Mr. Schenck said the city will receive an additional 12 which will be up for seizure later in the year.

Commissioner Keith Babb asked if the city plans to put the properties out for bid so they can be purchased by other residents and returned to the city tax rolls.

Mr. Schenck said he would probably recommend that the properties be auctioned off to individuals interested in putting homes on the vacant lots.

Calling the foreclosures on the abandoned properties "a first for Pahokee," commissioner Hugh Branch noted that Palm Beach County Commissioner Tony Maslotti has agreed to assist the city in securing grant funding for demolishing such derelict properties.

Mr. Schenck agreed, adding that the city may be able to secure Community Development Block Grant funding to build new houses on the properties, adding that many of the wooden structures "can be removed by the fire department by controlled burning."

Mr. Branch noted that another six buildings will shortly be turned over to the county, adding that the 20 properties on the list are among the worst in town.

Commissioner Babb suggested that if the properties are put out for bid, and sell for less than their value, the new property owner's could use the difference as collateral or a down payment to build a new home on the property. He said a similar program in other communities assists low income residents in financing homes.

Robbers confess to trying to rob Doc's Gas

By Brenda Bunting Editor

Two 16-year-old teenagers have confessed to trying to rob Doc's Gas in the early morning hours of Friday, Oct. 13.

Det. Shatara Shatara with the Belle Glade Police Department said police responded to Doc's Gas at 157 NW 16th Street about 6:30 a.m. after an employee of the business called to say two males were trying to get into the locked station office.

Store employees said they were preparing to open for the day when a masked man pointed a gun at them through the glass portion of the door and demanded they open the door. The teen with the firearm began banging on the front glass door and demanding the workers unlock the door. The store employees said they dove on the floor and managed to get to the telephone to call police.

Sgt. Darren Read and Officer Michael Woodside responded to the area and saw the suspects matching the description given by store employees running in the 1200 block of NW Avenue B. The two juveniles were captured without incident. One of the juveniles later gave a taped confession. They were charged with armed robbery and wearing a mask while committing an offense. One of the juveniles was taken to the juvenile detention center in West Palm Beach. The other was adjudicated as an adult and taken to the Palm Beach County Jail.

PBCSO 'Do the Right Thing' awards program kicks off at Pioneer Park Oct. 30

By Tracy Whirls

The Palm Beach County Sheriff's Office-sponsored "Do the Right Thing" will kick off the 2000-01 program with an awards ceremony at Pioneer Park Elementary, Monday, Oct. 30 at 9:00 a.m.

The "Do the Right Thing" program, a not for profit organization, targets and rewards the "good" children of our community for their behavior, deeds and/or accomplishments. The program was initiated by the Miami Police Department in 1990, after seeing the positive effect an award ceremony had on a high school student who was recognized for turning in a loaded handgun against the pressure of his peers.

Teachers nominate children from their school each month. A Board of Directors then chooses first, second and third place winners from each school's list of nominees. All nominees receive a certificate of nomination and an award item. All finalists receive T-shirts, school supplies and other award items. Each school's monthly first place winner receives a plaque in addition to the other award items. The awards are presented during a ceremony, hosted by a different school each month.

The program is community based and can only succeed with your support. It's our goal

All proceeds from the event will go to the O'Say Child Development Center. The O'Say Child Development Center will like your help by supporting our "Village Support Fund" (monies for working poor parents for quality childcare). Should you require additional information or have any further questions regarding this event, you can contact Mrs. Baldwin at (561) 924-2820.

Patients from the Alzheimer's Community Care Association awarded gold medals

By Jose Jesus Zaragoza

Patients from the Alzheimer's Community Care Association in Pahokee were awarded gold medals recently for participating in this year's Olympic activities, according to Lynette Weisman, Program Manager for the Alzheimer's Community Care Association in Pahokee.

The ceremony was a reward for all the people who participated in the games. Each participant was awarded a gold medal and served cake and other refreshments to acknowledge their successful completion of the games they played earlier this year.

Alzheimer's patients in the day care program were treated to games specifically created to raise their awareness of the Olympics.

Patients took part in wheelchair races, egg and spoon races and an indoor volleyball game in which they sat in chairs and used balloons in place of volleyball.

The patients also played trivia games and word games with questions specifically pertaining to the Olympics. All activities were held at the City of Pahokee Community Building.

"We felt that since the Olympics were going on, the patients were going to be more aware of what's happening," said Ms. Weisman, "so we tried to show them and read the articles out of the paper and help them to be updated on what's going on."

With the ongoing support the

The idea for the games was initially brought up by the director of the program, Mike Cornett. Every member of the staff then took great care in designing games that would not only entertain, but educate the patients. Tracy Hallcock, Lawana Collins, nurse Kathy Davis and family consultant Linda Meadows all helped with the games and set up the actual playing grounds.

With the ongoing support the staff has received from the guardians of the patients, they are planning on having the games again next Olympic year.

The mission of the Alzheimer's Community Care Association of Palm Beach and Martin Counties, Inc. is to provide active leadership in the community for promoting and/or providing resources and services that are accessible, adequate, affordable and appropriate for patients of Alzheimer's disease and related disorders and their caregivers.

There was a patient at the Alzheimer's Community Care Association who never spoke, according to Ms. Weisman. Because the entire staff has helped with giving the patient a lot of attention and one-on-one discussions, the patient is now talking and responding very well with the staff and her own family.

"If anybody is interested in their loved one attending, they can contact us and if they need any support and guidance, even if they aren't interested in the day care, we do have a support system for them," said Ms. Weisman.

For more information, contact Lynette Weisman at 924-7283 or visit her office at 360 East 1st St., Pahokee.

'Tis the season...A look at cold fronts

The first significant cold front of the season has arrived in South Florida. For year-round residents, that cold front is a welcome event, because it means an end to the heat, humidity and tropical showers that are so common during the summer months.
For seasonal residents, that cold front, and the dozen or so other fronts expected to follow during the fall and winter, is the reason they head south each fall. South Florida becomes a true paradise as cool, dry air, along with deep blue skies, becomes an every-day occurrence.
Yet, that phrase-cold front-might be meteorology's most misused term. Technically, a cold front is simply a boundary between warm and cool air, when the cool air is advancing to replace the warm air.
But sometimes the air behind the cold front is not cold. In fact, the temperature difference across the front can be quite small.

Mike Lyons

And sometimes the temperature of the air behind the cold front is about the same, but that air mass is considerably drier. Yet, technically, both of these examples are called cold fronts.
As it turns out, cold fronts come in many varieties and carry very unusual names. Cold fronts that quickly bring clearing skies are known as kinafronts, while cold fronts that are followed by clouds and rain are called anafronts.

Most cold fronts are preceded by a line of precipitation as they move across a given location. However, some cold fronts produce very little or no precipitation. In fact, the only sign a front has moved through an area is a sudden change in winds and temperature. These fronts are known as kinafronts.
A katafront (kata is a prefix of Greek origin that means to move down or descend) is a cold front where warm air ahead of the front is descending to the ground. That sinking air inhibits the growth of clouds and precipitation. Most katafronts tend to move very fast.
An anafront, on the other hand, moves very slowly and can produce several days of clouds and rain. In fact, anafronts, often lacking upper level wind support, tend to stall in an area, allowing moisture to overrun the front. The result is several days of dreary weather.

Anafronts are fairly common in South Florida during October. Our first katafront of the season usually arrives by early November.
Whatever the name, all cold fronts share a number of similarities. As a cold front arrives, the barometric pressure will fall and then rise. Winds ahead of a cold front tend to be from a southerly direction while those behind the front in the cooler air-tend to be northerly.
In fact, meteorologists use the shift from a southerly to a northerly wind direction as the indication that a cold front has passed a particular point.
The first of those wind shifts has finally taken place, bringing relief from the long, hot summer. The first cold front of the season-whether it's an anafront or a katafront-is always welcome in South Florida.

Pahokee High Boys' enjoy successful summer

The Pahokee High Boys' Basketball Team worked hard this summer to ensure a successful upcoming season by attending three basketball camps in the months of June, July and August.

In June, three members of the Blue Devils team, along with Coach Chris Maxon, flew to Duke University, one of the premiere academic and basketball institutions in the world, for a week of basketball fundamentals and self-improvement teaching. Students Zebian Dowdell, Antonio Wilson and Breon Collins all had great experiences in learning basketball from Duke coach Mike Krzyzewski, winner of two National Championships and eight Final Four appearances.

In July, the Blue Devil

Basketball Team traveled to the University of South Florida, in Tampa to participate in a team camp against other high school teams throughout Florida. The Blue Devils ended up finishing 9-0 throughout the week and won the prestigious Team Camp Championship by defeating Sarasota Booker 66-58 in the title game. Kenny Berry, Zebian Dowdell, Everson

Sanders and Breon Collins all turned in fine performances in leading the PK Devils to the championship.

During the first week in August, the Devils ventured to the University of Florida in Gainesville for a week of camp under the direction of Gator Coach Billy Donovan. Zebian Dowdell, Nathaniel Allen and Kenny Berry all worked diligently on improving their basketball mechanics. Berry led his team to the Championship Game and was also named Camper of the Day, beating out almost 200 campers for the award!

"One of the top priorities in our program is to ensure that our kids at Pahokee get the same opportunities. If not more, as other student/athletes in the United States who aspire to be better and to ultimately get a college scholarship," Coach Maxon explained. "By exposing our kids to college coaches and high level competition, it will only motivate our kids to work harder so that individual and team goals can be reached."

Palm Beach Gardens defeats Pahokee

By Jose Jesus Zaragoza

Undeafated Palm Beach Gardens gains another win on Friday night after outplaying the Pahokee Blue Devils 19-7.

Pahokee had 48 complete passing yards, Palm Beach Gardens had 5. Pahokee had 4 completions out of 10 attempts, Palm Beach Gardens had 1 completion out of 5 attempts. Pahokee had 3 successful punts, Palm Beach Gardens had 2. Pahokee managed to fumble only twice and lose 2, Palm Beach Gardens fumbled three times and lost 4. So what went wrong?

Palm Beach Gardens' 53 rushes produced 185 yards in gain to Pahokee's 19 yards with 28 yards gained. Palm Beach Gardens' five penalties resulting in 35 yards lost proved no comparison to Pahokee's 10 penalties with 80 yards lost. That's what went wrong.

Even with substantially different stats, neither of the teams were slouches.

At any given time, Pahokee could've been broke loose and scored against the hometown Palm Beach Gardens boys. Defensive errors plagued the Devils' game and allowed Gardens to squeeze touchdowns out of Pahokee time (in the first quarter), after time (in the third quarter), after time (in the fourth quarter).

Pahokee's only touchdown of the game came in the first quarter following an explosive 53-yard fumble return from Linebacker Keyonvis Boule, complemented by a Meshach Harris kick. The lights lit up when quickly died down for Pahokee as they were to remain scoreless for the rest of the game.

Palm Beach Gardens scored the first and last touchdowns of the game against Pahokee on Friday. Their first touchdown was in the first; Gardens' Osborne caught a pass from Moreira and ran it down the to the end zone. The second and third touchdowns for PBG came in the last half of the game and were both completed by Burgess who scored both on runs, the first of the touchdowns preceded a point-earning Monrpe kick. Gardens' Newby also went 35-119 to blaze past Pahokee. Running back Curry Pride's 5-14. Palm Beach Gardens' record now stands at 7-0.

The Pahokee Blue Devils now stand at 1-6. Pahokee's next game will be their homecoming game against John Carroll tomorrow night. The last game Pahokee won was played at home...we'll see how things turn out on Oct. 20. The Blue Devils have yet to turn down a challenge.

Clewiston holds Glades Day back

By Jose Jesus Zaragoza

Even after exceeding 112 yards to the Glades resulting from 12 penalties, Clewiston was able to hold back the Glades Day Gators and win 47-14.

Glades Day was shut out by Clewiston for the first half of the game; the Gators rallied, but were not able to match Clewiston's offensive and defensive playing on Friday night.

The Tigers played hard in their hometown turf and scored 35 points before the halftime break. The Tigers went for two touchdowns in the first, both followed by successful goal kicks, and three touchdowns in the second quarter, all three followed by goal kicks. Clewiston was able to score yet again in the third and in the fourth, racking up enough points to secure the victory.

The Gators never said die, though, and got on the scoreboard after Quarterback Kyle McNamara scored from a run in the third and Nick Sanchez touchdown from a pass from junior Justin Miller; Kicker Ethan Brunson scored two points by two kicks after each touchdown.

"We came up against a better football team, but our kids came up in the second half. I'm proud of that," said Palm Football Coach Craig Dobson. "They were just a better team."

Clewiston also beat Glades Day's total passing yards by just four yards. Both teams fumbled three times and lost the ball all three times.

The Glades Day Gators will face Fort Myers Evangelical next on Oct. 20 in their homecoming game. The game will be played in Belle Glade and will start at 7:30 p.m.
